COVER LETTER

Hello! The name is Bayan, Bayan Mashat! And I'm on a mission to create meaningful experiences! I'm intensely interested in being a game producer. I believe I'm suited for job for the following reasons:

1. I single handedly spearheaded the production of "Re:Search, A Campus Story," a 9-level top-down 2D role-playing video game in Unity3D for an online course for UC Davis. Led a team of 8 members and shipped the game online, in less than 10 months, offered in 9 UC campuses for 5 years, serving 300+ students.

2. I worked on Proxi, Will Wright's next simulation AI game, where I iteratively designed and prototyped new gameplay elements around AI interactions. I was also responsible for writing sample conversation scripts and designing a set of modular agent behaviors that can be combined to interact with the user to refine memories and build rapport with the AI.

3. I have a technical background. Having a degree in computer science opened my eyes in so many ways and levels. Not only can I understand or write code, I can also talk code! I worked on Unity during my 9-month internship at Ranam.

4. I'm driven by the result, the product, the end. From my experience working with people with great skills and impressive ideas, I realized success is not about the tech skills only. It takes a product, a team, collaboration, it takes doing the right thing, or doing the wrong thing and owning mistakes and fix fast, and above all, it takes people :)
